Traywick Inaugurated Today

Dr. Leland E. Traywick will be formally inaugurated at 2 p.m. today as the eighth president of the University of Omaha.

The public is invited to the ceremony which will include a talk by Dr. Traywick and his investiture by Varro Rhodes, President of the Board of Regents. The inauguration will be in the University Stadium.

After the ceremony, President and Mrs. Traywick, and their two children with other honored guests will head a reception line in the ballroom of the Milo Bail Student Center. About 400 people representing academic institutions of the nation and state, learned societies, business and professional groups, and civil government will be present.

This will mark the first formal inauguration in the University of Omaha's 57-year history. On September 21, 1927 there was a convocation in recognition of Dr. Karl Wettstone, who assumed the presidency in July and resigned the following June.

Oxford To Lead

Oxford University, which heads the chronological guest list with its early 12th century founding date, has asked an alumnus, Paul F. Good, to represent it. Harvard University, with its 1636 founding date, making it the oldest American institution, will be represented by an alumnus, William A. Day, Jr.

Two other British Universities—The University of Leicester will be represented by alumnus P. H. Powell, and the University of Liverpool by G. A. J. Pitt, senior lecturer in biochemistry.

There will be two Canadian Universities represented—McGill University at Montreal by alumnus James R. Field, and the University of British Columbia of Vancouver by alumnus John F. Davidson.

All Nebraska colleges and universities will be represented, according to Dr. A. Stanley Trickett, chairman of the Inauguration Committee.

Among those representing organizations will be Douglas Slaughter, President of the Student Council; John A. Jeter, President of the Alumni Association; Dr. Ralph M. Wardle, The Jefferis Professor of English Literature, representing the members of the faculties; Mayor A. V. Sorensen of the city; Lieutenant Governor, Philip C. Sorensen, representing the state of Nebraska in his capacity as Acting Governor.

Davis to Present

Mr. Herbert Davis, M.D., a member of the Board of Regents, will present the President-Elect. Dr. Trickett will present the President's Emblem to Board President Rhodes, who, assisted by Board Vice President, Samuel Greenberg, will invest Dr. Traywick with the silver-gilt medalion symbolic of the presidency of the University of Omaha. This device, worn for the first time by Dr. Traywick, is a gift to the University by the members of the faculties and will be worn by the president at all future formal university functions.

The invocation will be given by Rabbi Meyer S. Kripke of Beth El Synagogue and the benediction by The Right Reverend Monsignor Nicholas H. Wegner, director of Boys Town.

The University of Omaha concert band, under the direction of Professor Jack Malik, will provide music for the inaugural convocation.

Get Tickets For Theater

By Dennis Madigan

The University Theater will open the 1965-66 season with the production of Bus Stop by William Inge.

Reserved seat tickets may be picked up at the box office in the Milo Bail Student Center first floor starting Monday. The play will be produced October 21, 22, and 23 at 8:30 P.M. in the University Auditorium.

The play is a story of a warm and sensible little overnight scrap between a couple of stranded, stubborn, appealing people. A bus out of Kansas City pulls up at a lonely roadside diner in the middle of a howling snowstorm. . . . All roads are blocked, and the weary travelers are going to have to hole up until morning.

A young lady passenger is the one with the most to worry about. She has been pursued, made love to, and finally kidnapped by a 21-year-old cowboy with a ranch of his own and the romantic method of an unusually headstrong bull. The belligerent cowhand is right behind her, ready to sling her over his shoulder and carry her, alive and kicking, all the way to Montana.

Pi Kaps, Chi O's Take Most Votes

Two Sig Eps and one Chi O have been elected to lead the senior class for this year. They are Loren Drum, president; Larry Hammer, vice president and Livi Bergman, secretary.

Junior class officers are Jim Butler (Sig Ep), president and Jo Ann Kruntorad (Alpha Xi), secretary. Jim Vincent (Sig Ep) and Jim Thompson (Pi Kap) tied for vice president. A run-off election will be held next Wednesday in the BSC card room from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. to determine the winner. All full-time juniors are eligible to vote.

The sophomore class will be lead by Steve Sheppard (Pi Kap), president; Joe Beninato (Lambda Chi), vice president and Diann Petersen (Chi O), secretary.

Freshmen class officers are Ron Morford (Pi Kap), president; Tom Helligso (Pi Kap), vice president and Marsha Pastory (Chi O), secretary.

Freshmen Student Council members are Linda Kollé, independent; Suzi Mortensen, Chi O; Tom Fischer, Pi Kap and Randy Fischer, Lambda Chi.

Dean Meets With Council

Dean Frank Gorman, dean of the College of Teacher Education, and Dr. Paul Kennedy, head of the secondary education department, met with Committee eight of the Nebraska Council on Teacher Education, Thursday.

This committee, headed by Dean Gorman, is in charge of approving teacher education programs in teacher training institutions. It also deals with policies governing teacher education and certification.

The committee, which met in Lincoln, discussed new programs in teacher education.

Wednesday, representatives of the State Department of Education, and business & vocational education faculty from the University and Omaha public schools met in the BSC. They discussed their involvement in the Vocational Act of 1963, and the role of vocational and business education in the public schools.

The University's representatives discussed the University's part in training teachers in business and vocational education.

John Elias, of the State Department of Education, spoke at the meeting.

Warning

Cars parked in the driveways and east lot of the First Christian Church lot will be towed away starting Monday, a church spokesman told the GATEWAY Wednesday morning.

The church has made similar warnings, but due to the lack of parking places on campus during peak periods, no cars have been towed away.

Signs have been posted in the restricted areas for students in doubt. The only lot open to students is the west one.

Briscoe Baffles Braves

8,256 See Indians Take 14-12 Squeeze

Scrambler Briscoe . . . baffles Braves.

by Mike Moran

A record throng of 8,256 fans jammed Rosenblatt Stadium last Saturday night as Omaha nipped Bradley, 14-12, in a gilt-edged thriller. The GATEWAY Football Night crowd was the largest turnout ever to see the Indians play at home.

Al Caniglia's troops struck first, and didn't waste any time in doing it. A 42 yard trap pass from scrambling Marlin Briscoe to flanker Rick Davis put the ball on the Bradley 20 with just two minutes gone in the first quarter.

Battering Bill Dodd and Briscoe moved it to the three before Gerry Allen pushed it on third and goal. Soph George Blankenship toed his first PAT of the night and OU was off to the races at 7-0.

The Braves roared back after Allen's fumble of a hurried Briscoe pitch was covered by Terry Celba on the OU 18. Two plays later, Brave quarterback Bob Caress triggered a screen pass to Rollie Innskeep for the touchdown. Caress, usually accurate, missed the placement badly.

The score stayed at 7-6 until late in the third quarter when Briscoe guided Omaha 43 yards to the winning score. Big gains by Dodd, playing his best game, and Allen moved the ball to the seven. Briscoe rolled into the end zone on third down behind crunching blocks from Dodd and Jimmy Jones. Blankenship's kick was picture perfect as the third quarter ended.

The teams traded muffed chances and OU used up five minutes in a sustained drive that ended with a fumble on the Brave 15. Caress and company got the ball back with a minute left and went right to work. The last minute blitz ended with a muffed field goal attempt from the OU 21 as time ran out.

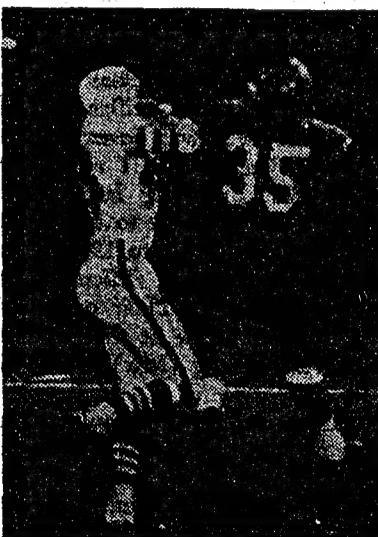

The win was the third in four games for Omaha. Bradley slipped to 1-3 on the season. The Peoria team has lost three games by a total of seven points.

Watchorn . . . Decisions, decisions!

Tidbits From The Butcher Shop

Here's A Pat For Us

Here's time out right now to pat ourselves on the back for Saturday's glittering turnout at the Bradley game. GATEWAY Football Night wasn't just something that happened. It took work and lots of it.

Omaha Auditorium—Stadium manager Charlie Mancuso spent many hours on the phone along with Mike Moran in rounding up the prizes and Charlie exhibited his usual ingenuity in coming up with some goodies, including a real live mule and pony.

Sports Information Director Larry Porter acted as "head corral keeper" for most of the week, watering the pony and leading her for daily walks on campus. Porter also headed up a frustrating ticket campaigning at the Crossroads along with one little Indianne and Athletic Department secretary Chris Johnson.

KMTV's Dave Blackwell came through with two tickets to the Kansas City-Buffalo game next Sunday to go along with Mancuso's procuring of a round trip plane excursion for that day.

Monday night would have found GATEWAY sports editor Leo Meidlinger, Porter and Moran spraying each other from head to toe at one a.m. with fluorescent paint in a vain effort to make up some large signs. Porter's comment after the painting . . . "I regret that I have only one brush to give for my school."

Tuesday morning would have found Mrs. Crowder taking down our promotion signs in the upstairs cafeteria, acting on orders from SC Director Bill Gerbracht. (NO signs are permitted on the walls because then it might look like the OUampi Room was the rule) Result: a hasty revamping of sign positioning and an irate promoter.

Wednesday morning found the pony grazing on the Student Center lawn. Result: phone calls and a hasty retreat to the corral for our men and beast.

Thursday morning found an 8:30 girl's P.E. class tending to the pony's comfort on the football field and bringing buckets of water for the animal. Thursday morning also found our heroes with a shovel and a cart, cleaning up after said animal on the football field. (Leading one to believe that Journalism majors are extremely flexible men of many talents.

Thursday night revealed ten thousand phone calls, arrival of the mule, hasty checking of the prize lists, the pony sleeping peacefully in her new home at the Auditorium, Moran, Meidlinger and Porter at County Hospital being fitted for straightjackets, and Journalism Department head Paul Peterson wondering what the duce was going on.

Friday was just another day . . . but Saturday at dawn it began again. Moran was at Rosenblatt Stadium at dawn to feed his donkey and pony and to deliver the prizes. Porter remembered he still worked for the University and called boss Bob McGranahan to see if he was still on the payroll.

Saturday night made it all worthwhile . . . 8,256 reasons why it should be done again, and again, and again.

The Smoke Clears . . .

We of the student publications department feel that a lesson has been learned. With very little actual effort from a financial standpoint, we picked up the largest crowd ever to see OU play at home. It proves very convincingly the attraction of night football, proper promotion and a fine football team.

The next time, there will have to be more ballcarriers from all over the campus. This list should include the Student Council, social organizations and every other student body on this campus. That "pipe dream" of ten thousand fans might have been reached with a little more help from those in a position to do so.

That Day Again . . .

It's Homecoming time again, kiddies. Time for all good alums to return to the tepee and for all our Jet-Setters to get out and frug, swim, jerk and watusi their evening away to the sounds of the Kingsmen tonight.

It's also time to get a free meal at the Pep-Bowl today and then see our President formally ushered into office at the Stadium. He's a good guy and a man with a lot of responsibility on his shoulders. He's a man who wants to know his students. He's a man to know if you can.

Then at 5:30 it will be the bonfire, pep-rally and the crowning of the Homecoming queen. (an event that will bring the usual flood of tears from the defeated sorority members and the wild celebrations by the victors)

It's one of the real chances for OU students to get out and have a good time right here on our campus. There should be no griperes today . . .

Shorties . . .

OU has escaped the injury bug well this year. Only bruised warrior this week is Lew Garrison with a sore foot.

Bradley tried a new one on the last play Saturday: Twelve men on the field. A player came off the bench and ran into the end zone looking for a pass.

Questions? Griperes? Opinions? All letters to this column will be printed and answered immediately. (In print to boot).

'They Won't Beat Themselves'—

Tough Defensively, Pittsburgh Lacks Close-In Scoring Punch

by Leo Meidlinger

Omaha University's 3-1 football Indians open their bid to regain the Central Intercollegiate Conference football title tomorrow afternoon against Pittsburgh State of Kansas.

Kick-off time is 2 o'clock at the OU Stadium.

Head coach Al Caniglia calls the Gorillas "an always fine-coached ball-club." Pittsburgh coach Carmie Smith has two national small college titles to his credit and line coach Joe Murphy is a veteran mentor with the savvy only experience brings.

Scoring Punch???

Offensively, the Kansas club is directed by senior quarterback Ron Vignery, a 6-foot, 182-pounder. He's "an adequate" passer according to Caniglia. Vignery hit only 11 for 35 in his team's 13 to 0 loss last week to Southwest Missouri State. However, assistant coach Carl Meyers who scouted the Kansans last week says mistakes close to paydirt has hurt the Gorillas all year and last week was no exception.

The Kansans are 1 and 3 on the year, including last week's loss. They also lost to Northeast Missouri State, 20 to 19, and to the University of Missouri at Rolla, 19 to 7. Their only win of the year came at the expense of Warrensburg (Mo.) State, 26 to 7.

The running game could shape up as a duel between Held and the Indians junior fullback, Bill Dodd. Dodd, the Central product, has shown increasing class as both a runner and blocker during OU's last two victories.

Caniglia indicated that the Gorillas offensive attack takes various forms off the T. The two main sets, according to scout Meyers, should be the straight and wing T.

More Passes

The Indians should see a lot of passes from Vignery to ends Everett Deckard, a 6-2, 192 pounder, and Dennis Watson, who stands 5-11 and weighs in at 195. Caniglia says he expects the Gorillas to throw more against his club than they have all year.

Defensively the Kansan tight middle guard Ron Ehmann and linebacker Larry Baskey.

Baskey, an all conference choice last year at offensive center, has been switched to strictly defense this year and is a hard one to move at 5-10 and 205.

Ehmann is a 6-3 220-pounder with good range and maneuverability. Caniglia says Smith's club has been hard to run at up the middle and credits Ehmann and Baskey with much of the Gorilla's success against the ground game.

Another factor Caniglia sees as possibly affecting the outcome of the game is the fact that it is a conference encounter. "If a club expects to win the league title in a 5-team league it can hardly expect to lose one and still be in the running," Caniglia opined.

Although Pittsburgh virtually has the same team back that beat the Indians a year ago I'll have to go with Caniglia's club, 21 to 13.

Blankenship is now eligible to receive the PLAYER OF THE YEAR AWARD to be presented at the end of the season.

Campus Funnies

Fairness is a homecoming candidate seeing her first OU football game.

Loneliness — how the candidates for senior class offices felt when no one came to their rally last Friday afternoon.

If all the cars were lined up bumper to tail light, it's a typical morning at OU with the people looking for a parking space.

Definition of apathy: "I don't know what it is and I don't give a damn."

Gould Standout During Twin C.C. Setback

Omaha University's top distance runner, senior Ken Gould, gained two firsts over the weekend but they weren't enough as coach Lloyd Cardwell's cross country team suffered a pair of setbacks.

Friday, Gould shattered the three-mile cross country record at Peru State with a clocking of 15:01, but the solo effort was enough as the Indians fell to Peru 20 to 43. He eclipsed the old mark by 55 seconds.

Freshman Jim Beraldi, who finished eighth, was the second best among the Indians harriers in the event.

Tuesday, Gould dealt South

Dakota University's Dave Heffern his first loss in six meets this fall, but the Coyotes went on to win team honors in the quadrangular meet.

Gould lowered his three-mile standard to 14:49, while besting Heffern by three seconds.

The team scoring showed South Dakota with 44 points to win, Yankton College with 47, Omaha with 55 and Augustana with 67.

Trailing Gould and Heffern were Randy Nielson of South Dakota, Dennis O'Neill of Yankton and Bill Roggee of Augustana.

Soccer League Meeting Called

A meeting is scheduled for 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at 17th and Cass Streets for all Omaha University students interested in playing soccer.

Kurt Rassmussen is the man to contact at the meeting to be held at the Music Vine at the Cass street address. Rassmussen says there has been a wide amount of interest expressed throughout the city in forming a soccer league.

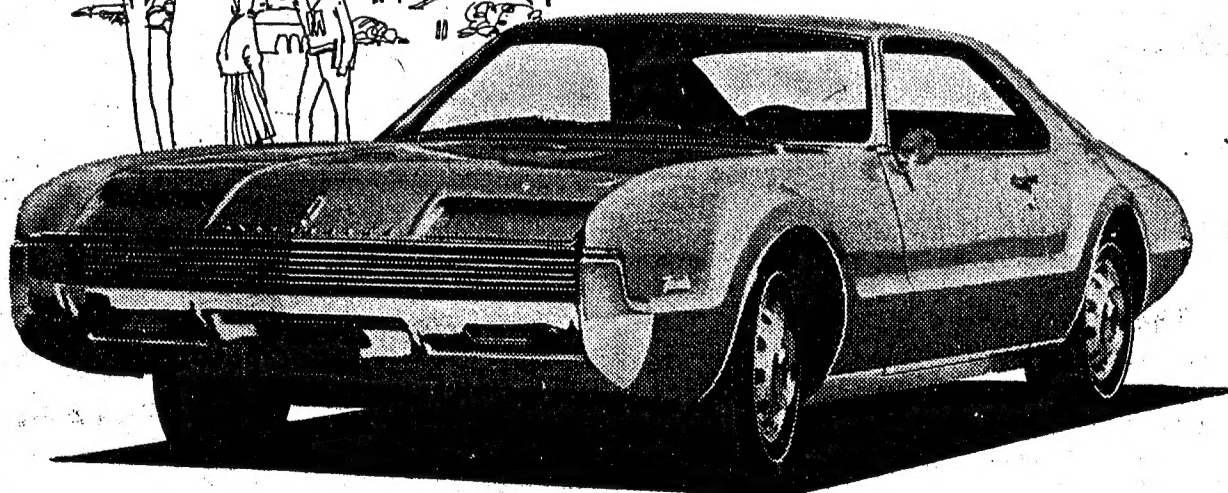

For further information you can contact Rassmussen at 733-2807.

Campus Tigers Disappear Until Next Pledging Season

Tiger week is over. The Arnold Air Society pledges—Tigers—who paraded about campus in their green flight suits, baseball caps, sunglasses, and tennis shoes have all become prospective members.

A few changes were made in the AAS pledge program this year. For the first time, sophomores in the AFROTC program were allowed to pledge AAS. Also more dangerous and unfavorable comment-producing campus shenanigans were abandoned.

However, Tigers still faced most traditional goings-on; As reporting in at 6:30 in the morning, doing pushups, guarding tiger Snoopy the AAS mascot, and enduring general harassment by the active members. They learned the Officer's Code and the Code of Conduct. One pleasant duty was to escort coeds to class. Ending the week's activities was a simulated war exercise that pitted the actives against the Tigers.

"The purpose of Tiger Week is not just to harass the pledges," says Cdt. Maj. Clarke W. Powers, head of the AAS at Omaha University. "The program was designed to provide an insight into military life and to the co-operation, coordination, and organization that any successful group has to have. Any Tiger who has not learned this has missed a great point."

Thirty-one AFROTC cadets have pledged the Arnold Air Society. They are:

Deadline Is Oct. 29 For Graduate Exam

Registration deadline for the November 17 Graduate Record Examination is October 29.

The examination, administered by the Educational Testing Service, provides a standardized method for screening graduate school applicants and for evaluating diversified educational backgrounds.

Grain Of Sand Deadline

October 22, is the deadline for student articles for the December issue of the Grain of Sand, OU's literary magazine.

The preferred length of short stories or essays is 2,000 words or less. For poetry, the preferred length is 40 lines or less.

Manuscripts are to be typewritten, double-spaced and submitted anonymously to Dr. Ralph Wardle, Adm. 321 or any member of the English Department.

Views From The Pole

By Debbie Pelowski

It could only happen in Ethics class. It's only ethical to walk in, take my seat and ponder the massive form of a brute sitting upside-down next to me. He seemed to be examining the underside of his chair, and, overcome with curiosity, I tapped him on the place where his shoulder should have been and said sweetly, "Whatcha got there, fella?" "Ugh, carrying a Nazi sign, whadyathink," he replied brutally.

I might have come to that conclusion, myself, had I first noticed the top of the desk, already exhausted by hammers and sickles, greek letters and tender dedications to lost lovers.

Right Side Up

This incident prompted me to thoughts about educational decisions, of which there is an undecided number. For example, Vance Coolstud seats himself (right side up) in a class which is not particularly stimulating. Immediately, he is subject to decision. He must decide, after grasping his pen in chisel fashion, whether to make the Nazi insignia above or below the "I love Shiela Lazershnskori" on the desk top. His decision is made somewhat easier by eliminating the area left of Shiela, where the hammer and sickle is located. The area to the right can also be discounted, because of the "rat fink" engraving.

These things taken into consideration, he is still left with the decision of size. Should the Nazi insignia be two inches by two inches, or should it overlap Shiela and spoil his predecessor's obviously time-consuming effort. Finally completed, with the help of ruler, slide rule and compass, he has expressed himself with superior exactness and is elated to have made his mark on campus. Just imagine the decisions involved had he drawn a nude!

Split?

This has probably never been said before, but what we need is more school spirit. Now, everyone likes football. There is something sadistically pleasing about watching two overgrown boys running at each other lickety-split with the end result that one or both overgrown boys winds up with a split-lickety.

However, I feel there is nothing more conducive to school spirit and well-attended football games than the ever popular school cheers, so I have taken the initiative to conduct a contest to acquire new and different rah rahs. Being careful to eliminate the obscene ditties, here are a few of the entries:

Dribble to the twenty Chip to the ten
Hit a home run
Then do it all agin.

Or maybe shoot a basket
and make it thirty love
Then hit them in the sternum with a boxing glove.

And then get a base hit in the second frame
You probably won't believe this
But I don't dig this game.

The following is a cheer for quarterbacks who have been paid to play:

You better throw the football
You better throw it far
You better make a touchdown
Or we'll take back your car.

Next week, I will delve into the anticipated issue of where the Cubans will park at OU.

Physics Gets Planetarium

A planetarium has been added to the equipment in the physics department.

This is not a model, but rather it shows to scale the motions of our solar system as far as Jupiter.

The planetarium was designed and used by an aero-space company. Through the use of its timing mechanism, it is possible to determine the proper launching time of a satellite destined to land on Mars.

This equipment will be used next semester in introduction to physical science courses and in an astronomy course.

Kick the dull driving habit. Step out in a lively Dodge Coronet.

Isn't it time you joined the Dodge Rebellion?

Forget all you've seen and heard about '66 cars. Because Coronet is here . . . sharp, smart and sassy, the greatest thing from Dodge since Year One. Loaded with luxury the higher-priced cars haven't caught onto yet. With a choice of five engines, each one designed to make the walls of Dullsville come tumbling down. And with a whole slew of standard equipment that used to cost extra. Like an outside rear view mirror. A padded dash for extra safety. Variable-speed electric windshield wipers and washers. Backup lights. Turn signals. Seat belts, two front and two rear. And, as some extra frosting on the Coronet cake, a 5-year or 50,000-mile warranty.*

Enough said to get you really tempted? Now let's get away from the look-alike, drive-alike, first-cousin cars with Coronet, a car with a lively personality all its own.

REQUIRED MAINTENANCE: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. ## Registrar Records Increase In Students, Credit Hours

An analysis of enrollment data from the Registrar's Office has established several reference figures that help to form a concept of the increasing student population at the University.

From an overall total of 9,082 students registered at OU this fall, 4,579 are full-time students carrying at least 12 credit hours and 4,503 are part-time students. At the same time last year, there were 4,113 full-time students and 4,295 part-time ones comprising a total of 8,408.

There has been an increase in total students of 674 since last year. According to the Registrar's Office, there is a normal 3 to 5 per cent yearly rise in students, however, this year's total is up 8.4 per cent in relation to the previous year owing to the "war baby" factor.

Reversal

In 1964 there were more part-time students than full-timers, but now the situation has reversed as full-time students gained by 466 compared to the part-time increase of 308 giving the full-time side a 76 edge.

The number of freshmen stands at 2,823, a gain of 482 in relation to the 1,869 registered in 1964. Full-time freshmen grew by 433 while the part-time ones only came up by 49.

Taking into consideration another enrollment factor, total credit hours being taken at the University went up by 5,719, giving a present total of 87,592 credit hours.

Load Increases

Full-time students, who are enrolled in 66,999 of the credit hours, made 776 hours of gain over last fall while those students taking less than a 12-hour load and comprising 20,593 of the total credit hours took on 4,943 hours of increase for the same period.

From the information here it can be seen that more students are taking more hours. The average load per individual in 1964 was 9.64 credit hours. This year it is 9.73 hours.

University Studies took in 152 of the 674 new students for the largest college gain. Distribution throughout the rest of the colleges was found to be fairly even, the Registrar's Office said.

'De Gaulle's Unique' Exclaims Shoenbrun

"Charles De Gaulle is the last of the dinosaurs."

It was around this statement that David Shoenbrun built his lecture on France and Charles De Gaulle. This noted newsman and commentator was brought in at the last minute as a replacement for Teodoro Moscoso, as the second speaker for the Institute of World Affairs.

According to Shoenbrun, De Gaulle is a very unique man and is the last of the giants of the world. Through several personal stories about De Gaulle himself, Shoenbrun attempted to explain why there is disagreement between France and the United States.

'Not Great'

At one time, France was a great power and cultural center. This is not true any more. "It is unforgivable," said Shoenbrun, "to stand by and watch the liquidation of one's heritage."

An example of one of the stories told, was of an incident that occurred at the funeral of President Kennedy. Newly sworn in, Johnson asked De Gaulle in Washington if he would keep his word and come to the United States on an official state visit in March. Johnson, thinking that De Gaulle had agreed, announced it to the press later in the day. De Gaulle in turn made it an embarrassing situation by denying the whole thing that night.

Next Speaker

"Red China is making both East and West look like kids when it comes to hustling the Africans," says John Peer Nugent, "Newsweek's" first Chief African Correspondent.

Mr. Nugent will speak at the Institute of World Affairs lecture at 8:15 P.M. Monday in the University Auditorium.

During the past three years Mr. Nugent has traveled black Africa from one end to the other daring fate and lady luck continually. He has faced firing squads, been deported from South Africa, had his car mistakenly blown up by U.N. forces and survived beatings and cannibal attacks.

When Guinea became the first black land to become and then quit Communism, Mr. Nugent was there—giving him an unusual insight into the nature of African Communism.

In spite of, or because of, his determination to see and know Africa and the people that live there, Mr. Nugent has returned with an unusual, exciting and penetrating story of the complexities that face this vast continent in turmoil.

Mr. Nugent's topic will be 'Communism in Africa—Fact or Fiction?'

Student Council Prexy Has Awards For Service

By Jim Vlcek

To ask most new O.U. students the question: "Who is Doug Slaughter?" would be immediately accompanied by an uninformed shrug of the shoulders. The correct answer, Doug W. Slaughter is the student council president of O.U.

This modest 20-yr. old math major is well on his way to success. His records of awards and acknowledgments are adding up rapidly. Just to name a few, he was voted typical freshman in 1963, vice president of the pledge class his freshman year, rush chairman for Pi Kappa Alpha his sophomore year, and vice president of the student council his sophomore year.

So far, Doug has been offered various positions with two major firms. Doug is not positive about his plans for the future as of yet. Still undecided about these two fine job offers, he will either go to work as a National Field Secretary for the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, or go on to graduate school to earn his degree.

Doug's busy day begins at six a.m. and seldom ends before 1:30 a.m. after nearly 5½ hours of study. Doug still finds time on the weekends to go camping and fishing with his younger brother.

Finding no time at all to compete in any varsity sports, Doug gets it out of his system by competing in nearly all of the intramural sports. His hobbies range from chess, checkers, solving trick math problems, to the physical pastimes which include karate and gymnastics.

Doug is a 1963 graduate of Benson High where he kept a straight B+ average, was a member of the National Honor Society and achieved numerous other awards and achievements. Here at OU he manages to keep at least a 3.1 average.

If you want to see a police action in Southeast Asia guys, don't bother to register next semester.

Honor To Corkill

Miss Nila Corkill, who works in the cataloging department of the Gene Eppley Library, has been selected as "one of the most outstanding young women in America" by the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Miss Corkill's hometown of Imperial, Neb., nominated her for the distinction because of civic achievements she made in connection with Imperial's VFW Auxiliary.

Her name will be included in an annual biographical compilation put out by the Federation of approximately six thousand women between the ages of 21 and 36 who have distinguished themselves in one or more fields of civic or professional endeavor.

A graduate of Kearney State College, Miss Corkill received her Masters Degree in Library Science from the University of Denver.

Frosh Discovers Giving Blood Is As Easy As . . .

Blood donor day ended in disillusionment for an eager freshman.

David Decker's determination to do a good deed began in good faith. Throwing away old fears about giving blood, he went to the Red Cross station in the Student Center and filled out the necessary forms.

Then Decker went home with a feeling of satisfaction . . . a feeling of being a man of good will, and, above all, a feeling of adding five merits to his ROTC record. He slept well that night.

And in the morning he obeyed the brochure's order, "Do not eat four hours prior to your donation time."

"What a sacrifice," the well-padded freshman thought, mentally giving himself another gold star. His thoughts piled up rapidly—"I wonder if it will hurt; I sure hope it doesn't take long"—as he walked up the BSC stairs to his 9:45 a.m. appointment.

First he waited 15 minutes in line where donors under 21 had to clear their parental approval.

Then he went to the second line where his pulse was measured and his temperature recorded to see if he was physically fit to undergo the ordeal ahead. He was.

The third line seemed just as routine. "Name, address, phone number," the questions droned on. "Any major surgery in the last six months?" Nope.

"Are you more than 17-years-old?" Decker answered, "No. Why?"

"You're too young. Try again when you're 18."

The frustrated freshman mumbled something about "Old enough to fight for parking spaces, but too young to give blood" and went downstairs for breakfast.
